TWELVE PAGES—FIVE CENTS

Red Shells Rake Front

Suffer 2,500 Casualties In 6 Days

Seoul, Saturday, June 21 — (AP)—The Communists hurled thousands of troops from two regiments at T-Bone hill and other heights on the western front Friday and early today but desperate Allied soldiers killed or wounded at least 500 Reds and held fast to their positions.

Allied troops at times were entirely cut off. They were pounded by one of the heaviest Communist artillery barrages of the war.

However, Eighth army sources said the U. N. forces held on.

A reinforced Communist battalion attacked Allied troops on T-Bone hill in a bloody attempt to win back the entire position. An estimated 3,000 to 4,000 troops took part in the assault.

A normal size Chinese regiment—2,000 to 2,500 men—attacked other hills across the valley from T-Bone. On Seoul route.

The heaviest fighting early today took place on the hill across a valley from "T-Bone"—an odd shaped cluster of knobby heights. Two Allied positions were under attack there. The hill mass overlooks a main invasion route to Seoul.

AP correspondent Milo Farnet said Red guns opened up with a cannonade at 10 p.m. Friday and kept blazing away until midnight. Then Chinese Red troops began an assault on Allied troops dug in on parts of T-Bone hill, west of Chorwon and 50 miles north of Seoul.

The Reds were renewing the costly assaults which they broke off Wednesday after suffering more than 2,000 casualties in six days. Farnet did not give the size of the attacking force. The Chinese had rotated battalions of about 750 men each in earlier attacks.

Outpost Attack
The Chinese Communists also maintained some pressure on the east-central front southeast of Kumsong. The Reds had attacked an outpost position there with a battalion Thursday.

In the air, six U. S. Sabre jets ambushed six slow, propeller type Red planes which strayed across the Manchurian border, shot down two and probably destroyed two more, the Fifth air force reported.

Sabres in seven sweeps over MIG alley of northwest Korea failed to sight any MIG jets, their usual opponents.

The Fifth air force sent 45 fighter-bombers on sweeps along the front. They also attacked Communist troop and supply centers just north of the fighting on the Chorwon and Kumsong sectors.

Arrange Shipment Of Some Steel To Jet Plant

Chicago, June 20 — (AP)—The National Production Authority's Chicago office said today arrangements have been made to move two truckloads of steel from the strike-shut Indiana harbor workers of the Inland Steel company in East Chicago, Ind.

An NPA spokesman said the shipment is made up of 19 tons of channel bars. He said it will go to the Armstrong furnace company, Columbus, Ohio, for use in making parts for jet engines for the defense department.

Joseph Jenekes, an international representative of the CIO United Steelworkers, said union pickets will allow the cargo to go through.

The government is taking steps to get finished steel from the CIO Steelworkers union headquarters in Pittsburgh telegraphed orders to locals Thursday night to pass such materials through picket lines.

French Minister Escapes Dismissal

Paris, June 20 — (AP)—The National Assembly defeated a motion to toss Foreign Minister Robert Schuman out of the cabinet tonight, but refused to endorse his program of greater self-rule for the protectorate of Tunisia.

However, the government was free for the time being at least—to go ahead with Schuman's Tunisian program since the assembly did not pass a motion against it but simply rejected one favoring it.

Premier Antoine Pinay rescued his foreign minister from the parliamentary attack by the right-wing followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, but a motion endorsing Schuman's five-point Tunisian plan was beaten down, 335 to 264. The Gaullists, Communists, Socialists, and followers of Defense Minister Rene Pleven all joined together in defeating the government motion.

Camp Cooke Corn Field Rated Poor

Camp Cooke, Calif., June 20 — (AP)—Members of Illinois' 44th Infantry division today claimed the only kind of corn that California can produce is the Hollywood variety.

The soldiers, homesick for their native state, have had little luck in attempting to grow a plot of real Illinois corn.

Pfc. Kenneth Rients of Minonk, Ill., is caretaker of the corn planted a month ago. "It just won't grow here," says Rients. "And look at that sickly green color."

Some months ago, Major Judson Chubbuck of Leroy, Ill., wrote a Bloomington seed company for some "good old Illinois black soil and seed corn."

"I guess we should have known that even Illinois soil and hybrid seed couldn't take all this fog and these cool nights," the major commented. "But we had hoped a little black dirt and green corn would be a morale tonic."

Master Sgt. Alfred Somers, 1010 N. Prairie St., Bloomington, just back from a furlough, boasts: "You ought to see the corn back home. I'll take a major miracle for the corn we planted here to be knee-high by the Fourth of July."

No Peace Signs In Steel Strike On 19th Day

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—The steel strike's sharpening pinch on the nation's economy led the government today to scrap plans for relaxing building restrictions on July 1.

The Defense Production Administration postponed indefinitely any easing of curbs on steel for home construction and building of amusement and recreation centers. A go-ahead on most banned construction had been planned before the strike began on June 2.

Meantime, an Associated Press survey of arms manufacturers and defense experts showed they expect military production to come to a virtual halt within a few weeks if the steel strike continues.

The walkout of 650,000 members of the CIO Steelworkers union—now in its 19th day—was continuing without sign of a break. President Truman held off invoking the Taft-Hartley law, with its provisions for 80-day court injunctions to stop big labor strikes.

Truman has said the strike situation is growing steadily more serious and eventually every industry in the country will be affected. But he has declined to say whether he will use a T-H injunction to try to end the strike, although he is considering that step.

State Police Raid Tazewell County

Pekin, Ill., June 20 — (AP)—State police tonight seized 27 gambling devices in raids in Tazewell county. Thomas Brennan, administrative assistant to Michael Seyritz, state director of public safety, said 24 policemen under Lt. Donald Lahnman made the raids.

Brennan said 11 machines were taken in East Peoria, three in Tremont, one in Creve Coeur and the remainder in rural locations. They were taken to the Tazewell county court house in Pekin and placed under state police guard.

Cigaret Tax Defendants Freed

Chicago, June 20 — (AP)—After twice reporting it was hopelessly deadlocked, a criminal court jury today found three defendants innocent in a cigarette tax fraud trial.

The men cleared of charges that they sold cigarettes in packages bearing counterfeit Illinois tax stamps were Thomas Lavin, Jr., 28, of Berwyn, Jacob Horowitz, 40, of Chicago, and Jacob Nuzz, 25, of Oak Park. All officials of the Randolph-Park Tobacco Company, 713 W. Randolph st., Chicago.

Prosecution witnesses testified during the trial that 67 cases of cigarettes confiscated by state police who raided the firm bore counterfeit stamps. Defense attorneys argued the state had not proven the stamps were counterfeit.

EXPECTS JANUARY BABY

Hollywood, June 20 — (AP)—Palm-domin's glamorous Elizabeth Taylor revealed today she expects to become a mother next January.

The 20-year-old star returned two days ago from England, where last February she married Michael Wilding, 39-year-old British light comedy star.

Wilding is due here next month.

Stassen Says Bob, Ike Too Conservative

By the Associated Press
Harold E. Stassen sniped away at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio yesterday as "too conservative" for the Republican presidential nomination. "Don't count me out," Stassen said. The former Minnesota governor used to say kind words about Eisenhower. Now he says he's disappointed in the general.

Eisenhower was conferring meanwhile in Denver with Idaho and Washington delegates to the Republican national convention.

Eisenhower was worrying, too, about whether to show up in person for next month's candidate-picking battle in Chicago. His aides were divided on that, but seemed to lean toward the idea that he ought to be on the scene.

Taft is bidding today for strategic support from Maryland with an appearance at a Taft carnival on a farm outside Washington. And Eisenhower strikes into Texas, where his supporters and those of Taft are trading charges of "fraud" and "steal" in a hot fight for control of a key 38-vote delegation.

Eisenhower makes a sentimental pilgrimage to his birthplace at Denison, then moves on to Dallas and a speech his backers bill Ed as a "rip-snorter."

Democratic Candidates
Top contenders for the Democratic nomination, going in for less spectacular skirmishing and name calling than the Republicans, are concentrating on the West and Midwest.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, out in front in delegate strength, winds up a busy week with a CB-TV appearance in Chicago at 5:30 p.m. (CT). Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia talks with Idaho delegates and party leaders at Boise. Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman flies from Des Moines to Omaha to deliver a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner address.

With 616 votes required to pick the Democratic nominee, the latest tally by the Associated Press shows 246 votes pledged, favoring or conceding to Kefauver, 114 to Russell, 95 to Harriman.

Peter Dukes Gets Pat On Back -- And $35 Fine

Chicago, June 20 — (AP)—A Chicago judge today warmly commended Peter Dukes for converting a mud trail into a useable street, then fined him $35 for doing so without a city permit.

"I think you should be commended for trying to help the city," Judge Erwin Hasten told the 35-year-old truck driver. "You should be patted on the back for helping, but you did it the wrong way."

Dukes told the court he spent several days hauling seven loads of crushed stone, broken concrete and cinders to an impassable section of 43rd street, on the southwest side. After that he spent more time spreading the concrete and crushed stone, which he topped with the cinders.

After he had finished the work, Dukes said, along came a city inspector who charged him with dumping on city streets.

"I thought I was doing something good, something to help me and all the other neighbors," said Dukes. "The purpose and result are important," argued Frank Yassili, assistant city prosecutor. He had no permit and should be fined.

Judge Hasten fined Dukes $25 and $10 costs. A motion to vacate the fine was continued to July 18.

Eisenhower On TV Monday Night

Denver, June 20 — (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make a 15-minute political address Monday night on a coast to coast television and radio network.

His subject was not announced but it will follow his trip to Texas and visit to Hoover dam, one of the west's reclamation monuments. It will be a paid broadcast.

The broadcast was announced by radio station KILZ in Denver which is making the arrangements and was confirmed by Eisenhower's headquarters. It will be from 10 to 10:15 p.m. EST. It will be carried to television viewers by CBS and NBC and to radio listeners by NBC.

Charges U.S. Mighty Kind To Rich Gangsters

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—Senator Williams (R-Del.) said today the U. S. Treasury let racketeers Frank Costello and Phil Kastel duck payment on huge tax delinquencies for years while they raked in fat profits from slot machines and other ventures.

Williams said the treasury has "marked off" $315,156 in taxes due from Kastel over the past 15 years, and he told the Senate:

"This does not include $148,043 which was marked off by the government in 1942 as representing cancellation of proposed penalties."

"The administration's boast about being the defender of the average man was a hollow ring when one observes the manner in which they have enforced the income tax laws against America's most notorious racketeers as compared with the manner in which our tax laws are being enforced against the average taxpayer."

The Delaware senator, conducting a one-man campaign against tax scandals, said he has been informed that the Internal Revenue Bureau, the nation's tax-collecting agency, is now investigating Costello's tax returns for the World War II period. He said the Bureau's special racket squad is also looking into Kastel's tax returns for the last six years.

Taft Boosts Free Economy

He Assails Spending, Controls

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—Senator Taft said tonight a Republican president's first task would be to cut government spending and taxation "to a point where a free economy can begin to operate again."

Hitting out anew at "too much government spending, too much government power," Taft said in a nationwide television broadcast (NBC "We The People").

"A lot of people seem to be afraid we can't reduce expenses without causing a depression. Of course that's nonsense."

"If the government doesn't spend money it can reduce taxes and leave more money for the people to spend. There is no reason why consumer spending of that kind shouldn't be just as stimulating to prosperity as government spending—and more so."

The Ohio senator, who is locked in a close race with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, emphasized repeatedly in his talk that the president should have a first-hand knowledge and long experience in domestic affairs.

Without mentioning Eisenhower by name, he seemed to be implying that the five-star general, with his training as a life-long soldier and his years away from the domestic scene lacked some of those attributes.

"Could Wreck Country"
"In the field of health, welfare, education and social security, a Republican president has to walk a very careful line," Taft said.

"If he follows the welfare staters, he could wreck the country. On the other hand, he should be interested in including all those services in the status of the low income group by measures which don't require federal control or bureaucracy and don't require socialism."

"I believe I could steer a course accurately designed for a sound American progress in all those fields," he added.

Lattimore Held To U.S.

Stevenson Gives Romantic Touch To Rumor Denial

Springfield, Ill., June 20 — (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois tonight denied a columnist's report that he is romantically inclined toward Miss Dorothy Fossick, daughter of Harry Emerson Fossick.

Drew Pearson, in his column today, linked the governor with Miss Fossick, an employee of the State Department in Washington. Fossick is a Baptist minister and nationally known religious author.

Stevenson said in a statement tonight, "newspapers have married me to three ladies in the last few months. I guess they think the plural of spouse is spouse and now Mr. Pearson has added still another."

"It is all very flattering to me—if not to the ladies. I apologize to them for any embarrassment the writers may have caused them."

The governor, father of three sons, is divorced. He declined to name the other ladies.

Sergeant Busted, Fined For Letter To General Clark

Monterey, Calif., June 20 — (AP)—Sgt. C. D. Chase, 24, was convicted today by a court-martial of disrespect to Gen. Mark Clark, reduced to private first class, and ordered to forfeit $75 a month pay for six months.

Chase's conviction was announced by the judge advocate's office an hour and a half after the court-martial convened at Fort Ord.

Sergeant Chase had written a letter to General Clark criticizing the handling of the Kojima Island prisoner riots as "repugnant and disgraceful."

Officers said the sentence was relatively light.

Chase will not be confined. Under the special court-martial he could have been confined for six months and reduced to a private.

SPORTS WRITERS' PREXY

Chicago, June 20 — (AP)—James Swickard, of Galesburg Register-Mail, today was elected president of the Illinois AP Sports Editors Association at the Association's second annual meeting. Bert Bertine, of the Urbana Courier, was chosen vice president and Hugh Hough, of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, secretary.

Rock Island, Ill., June 20 — (AP)—Ronald Hickie, 3, was fatally burned today when fire destroyed the Hickie's frame cottage.

Three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hickie got out of the fire.

Dime Clerk Through With Men

Chicago, June 20 — (AP)—Miss Betty Malinsky, 21, a dime store clerk who was quick to forgive and forget the first time, insisted today she is "through with men."

She got a warrant for her fiancé's arrest the second time this week—charging he skipped away with her life savings of $360.

Betty gave this version of her "lesson about life":

She met Robert Dominguez, 22, under a moonlit sky in Grant Park June 12. After a two-day whirlwind romance, she took Robert to her home where they made marriage plans.

She disclosed she had saved $360, but Robert told her, "If you trust me, you'll let me hold the money for you."

But Robert then became an absentee fiancé. She had him arrested when he showed up for work at his job as a mail clerk in the Union Station. He only had $270 of her money left.

Robert was brought before Judge George E. Weiss in South State Street court Tuesday on a disorderly conduct charge. But Betty had a change of heart and didn't want to prosecute. Robert was fined $2 and $3 for costs anyway and Betty paid it because Robert was broke.

Then they went to her home, retrieved their marriage plans and had a pre-marital blood test made.

Robert, she related, said he needed money to buy things for the wedding. She gave him the remaining $285.

Wednesday night she went to the loop to keep her date with Robert. He didn't show up.

So today a tearful Betty was back before Judge Weiss.

The judge ordered Dominguez arrested for grand larceny.

"I'm through with men—especially this one," said Betty.

State Hears Expert Plans Soviet Visit

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—The State Department said today an order to keep Owen Lattimore from leaving the country was issued because of an unconfirmed report he planned a trip to Russia or its satellites.

The department said that the report came from an "official source." Pending an investigation, which was said to be still in progress, the department said it took the "precaution" of asking the customs service to halt Lattimore should he try to leave illegally.

The department's request was dated June 3. Customs districts received instructions from Washington dated June 12. There was no explanation for the time lag.

Sun Broke Story
The first public disclosure that the order had been issued was in a story published this morning by the Baltimore Sun.

A customs official in Baltimore later said his office had received such an order.

Lattimore, Johns Hopkins university professor and expert on Far East affairs, lacks a passport which would permit him to travel abroad. A passport was granted him last winter for a trip to England, but it was limited to two months.

Breaking a day-long silence, the state department finally confirmed that an order to halt Lattimore if he should try to leave the United States without the necessary travel visa was issued on June 3.

Finally, shortly before closing time tonight, the department acknowledged that such an order had gone out.

Press Officer Michael McDermott refused to tell newsmen where the up about Lattimore originated, but he said:

"The department doesn't take action on fantasies or innuities."

On Capitol Hill, Senator McCarthy told the Senate "we have confirmed" that all customs officials have been alerted to intercept Lattimore if he should try to leave the United States.

The Wisconsin senator also declared that such action was taken only in "a very, very serious case."

FBI Begins Search For Knetzer

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—The FBI today issued a nationwide "wanted" notice for Robert L. Knetzer, who fled the Springfield, Ill., city jail three days ago.

The FBI notice asked the public to aid in the search. The routine warning said "Knetzer may be armed and should be considered dangerous."

Knetzer is accused of parlaying the post-war shortage of automobiles into a million-dollar illegal business. He went broke in 1948 owing credits $2,500,000.

He escaped from the federal section of the Springfield jail with the help of an accomplice posing as a United States marshal. Jailer Melvin Palmer, who reported he was duped by the phony marshal, today was cleared of implication in the case through a lie detector test.

U. S. District Attorney Howard L. Doyle announced in Springfield the test indicated Palmer was telling the truth.

The FBI said Knetzer started a sales lot in an alfalfa field near Edwardsville, Ill., just after the war. He obtained "huge sums from a car-hungry public as deposits for future auto deliveries," the FBI said, but "most of the promised deliveries were never made."

FBI Agent Richard N. Hosteny said in Springfield that "we're working on a lot of leads" in the search for Knetzer. He declined to give any details.

Knetzer, 40, is a six-footer weighing 195 pounds with brown wavy hair and brown eyes.

U. S. Attorney Doyle today discounted speculation that Knetzer's enemies might have arranged his escape. Doyle said there have been reports that Knetzer was threatened by some persons to whom he owed money.

"Knetzer knew those people better than anyone," Doyle told a reporter. "It's a cinch he wouldn't walk out of jail with someone he knew was going to kill him."

Bing And Bob Plug TV Show For Olympic Expenses

Hollywood, June 20 — (AP)—The nation's television fans will get their first livingroom look at Bing Crosby tomorrow night and, if Bob Hope's jokes don't lull him to sleep, the "old groaner" will be on the microwave for 14½ hours.

Bing, who once turned down $50,000 for an hour's appearance, will donate his TV debut so that the U. S. Olympic team can travel in style to Helsinki. He and Hope will be co-masters of ceremonies.

Both NBC and CBS will carry the marathon fund-raising appeal, expected to net a needed $500,000 for the U. S. Olympic fund. More than 70 stations will be linked from coast to coast, starting at 10 p.m. (CDT) and continuing without a break for 14½ hours.

Many other big names in Hollywood will contribute their talents. Acceptances have been received from Martin and Lewis, Donald O'Connor, Abbott and Costello, Dorothy Lamour, Edward G. Robinson, Paul Douglas, Liberace, Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Joe E. Lewis, Broderick Crawford, John Hutton, Constance Moore, Harpo Marx, Frank Sinatra, Margaret Gabor, Peggy Lee, Frankie Laine, Elio Pinza, Eddie Cantor, George Jessel, Dinah Shore, Walter O'Keefe, Hoagy Carmichael, Ben Blue, The Bell Sisters, Amos and Andy and many others.

According to the plan, the county clerk would retain one dollar for issuing the license with the balance turned over to the state.

Board members estimate that only about half the cars, trucks and motorcycles owned by LaSalle county residents are now listed on personal property tax books.

Copies of the resolution are to be sent to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, members of the Illinois General Assembly and to other public bodies in the state.

Board Says County Should Issue Auto And Truck Tags

Ottawa, Ill., June 20 — (AP)—The LaSalle county board of supervisors approved a resolution today asking that county clerks issue state automobile and truck licenses rather than the secretary of state.

The resolution also asks that the county clerks be authorized to issue the licenses only after the applicant has shown a receipt for payment of personal taxes on the vehicle.

County board members maintain the change would be a double-edged weapon to help increase county revenues for general purposes.

Board members estimate that only about half the cars, trucks and motorcycles owned by LaSalle county residents are now listed on personal property tax books.

Copies of the resolution are to be sent to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, members of the Illinois General Assembly and to other public bodies in the state.

Verdict Hits Price Curbs, Wage Board

House Votes Provisionally To Abolish Wage Stabilization Board And To Lift Price Controls From Almost All Consumer Goods

Washington, June 20 — (AP)—The House voted provisionally today to abolish the Wage Stabilization Board and to lift price controls from almost all consumer goods.

After delivering these staggering blows at the administration's economic controls program, the House adjourned until Monday.

Members agreed, however, to postpone until Wednesday further consideration of a bill to extend the Defense Production act, with all its controls on wages, rents and prices, for another year starting July 1.

The first business Wednesday will be an amendment by Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.) declaring national safety is imperiled by the steel strike and requesting President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley law, with its 80-day no-strike injunction.

THE VACANT CELL—ANOTHER CHAPTER IN THE STRANGE CASE OF MR. KNETZER

Jacksonville and Central Illinois citizens have always had more than usual interest in the strange case of Robert Knetzer, which the passing of time has by no means solved or straightened out. Quite a few still have money tied up in orders for automobiles—which they never got.

Knetzer is the man accused of snaring $3,000,000 from would-be purchasers of nearly-new cars in 1947 and 1948—a fabulous story of trickery on the part of the promoters, and misplaced confidence on the part of the thousands of citizens who did business with the dealers now facing charges.

The mysterious disappearance of Mr. Knetzer this week from the federal section of the Springfield city jail is but another chapter in a baffling case.

Mr. Knetzer has been in and out of jail numerous times since the private financial empire he built crumbled around his head. His incarceration stemmed from contempt charges. During intervals of liberty he traveled around the country in company of federal officials, and succeeded in digging up some assets to dump into the bankruptcy mill. Usually the court attaches could lay their hands on him, but since early Tuesday morning his whereabouts has been unknown to those who want him most. Mr. Knetzer, in company of a phony United States marshal, just faded away from the Springfield jail.

The Knetzer case is a classic in surprise angles and almost unbelievable twists that leaves the public shaking its head in confusion. As for the officials connected with the case, they should not be content until every secret of the Knetzer enigma has been revealed. Although the story has some misunderstood chapters it should be pieced together until it makes sense. The guilty should then be punished to the full extent of the law.

The FBI has a job to do. It has handled tougher assignments. The phony marshal who visited Knetzer's cell in the Springfield sneezer has a better-than-average chance of coming face-to-face with an honest-to-goodness United States marshal. Mr. Knetzer's freedom, too, will be challenged once again he is in custody of bonafide officials.

IT'S NOT LIKELY

President Truman is planning and acting to have himself "drafted" for the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention in Chicago. This is the conclusion of Human Events, a Washington service which analyzes the news.

"Today," says the publication, "The palace guard (inner Truman circle) is working hard, with winks, nudges and knowing remarks to spread the impression that Truman wants first place on the ticket." These Trumanites say they have the Southerners back on the reservation, and now they can go ahead.

The Southerners are backing Senator Russell of Georgia, with support here and there for Kefauver. When U. S. News and World Report asked Russell if he would be a third party candidate if he didn't get the regular party nomination, Russell, while prefacing his remarks with reaffirmations of life-long party regularity, said:

"I would never say that I would under all circumstances support a political party, for when you say that you're putting your party above your country, I'll never do that."

Russell would have no truck with the Dixiecrats in 1948. While generally backing the Truman foreign policy, favoring universal military training, etc., he doesn't like some other aspects of the fair deal.

After his successive declarations that he will, under no circumstances, accept a Democratic nomination, a so-called draft of the Missourian at the Chicago convention seems unlikely. But someone will be nominated. Who?

NEW SCORING SYSTEM

Followers of baseball have noticed a change in the manner of scoring games. In the past runs, hits and errors were given chief consideration. There were other factors, such as times at bat, to arrive at batting percentages, and assists also figured, but principal interest centered in runs, hits and errors.

More recently recognition has been given to the number of runs batted in, commonly referred to as RBIs. Hits which do not produce scores are of little importance except to fatten a player's batting average, and are of little value to the club's league standing.

Life in general should be scored in a similar manner. More persons should give thought to what their efforts actually amount to in a constructive way. No matter how carefully an effort is planned, it is of no avail if there are no results.

Boyle's Column

BY HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—Ladies, there are storm signals in the news hinting that everything is rising in value today except wives.

Are wives over-inflated? Should they be put under control? These issues have been raised by two recent items of interest to every thoughtful woman, and by that, of course, I mean every woman.

1—A British judge, granting a divorce to a husband whose wife ran off with another man, cut the husband's claim for damages from $700 to $21, and said:

"Her value to her husband was diminishing from year to year because of disagreements."

2—Dr. Samuel W. Stevenson, a Virginia professor, describing women as "the arch foe," called for a new St. George to emancipate American men and give them four freedoms, to wit:

"Freedom from nagging, freedom to relax in old clothes after a hard day's work, and freedom from indignation."

But this was his most revolutionary idea. "No women, married or single, shall be permitted to speak of her indignation until she had kept in writing for one year an accurate account of all her snap judgements and has compiled a record of at least 60 per cent accuracy."

The average wife would leap at this chance to show Dr. Stevenson that her intuition is at least 99 per cent correct—not a lame 60 per cent. But that British judge's decision is an entirely different matter. It strikes at the very heart of women's theory of power.

Does any wife want it written in the lawbooks that her value decreases "from year to year because of disagreements?" It is an uneasy precedent.

Husbands might start going into court, saying:

"Judge, I want a divorce, and don't give me any nonsense about alimony. My old lady and I have had so many disagreements she isn't worth a plugged nickel and I hereby give her away free."

Wives have just the opposite view. They figure the tears they give a man during their best years have a real dollar value to him.

Girls, it might be a good idea to write to the wife of that British judge and tell her to give him a good heart-to-heart talk on the facts of married life.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood —(NEA)— Exclusively yours: His famous father might have tangled with directors, but John Barrymore Jr. is denying that he's been having a tense feud with Director John Ford during filming of Republic's "Thunderbirds."

"I've never fought with Auer once," young John told me. "I yell at him and he yells at me. He even calls me the no-talent Barrymore, but it's all a gag. He's a sweetheart. Even if it wasn't a gag and he wanted to yell at me, it would be fine with me."

The censors may turn pale, but there will be no scissoring of Robert Newton's "swearing" in the title role of RKO's "Blackboard Jungle." All of his "cussing"—a running gag in the film—is in Welsh. The effect is eyebrow lifting but when translated the Welsh words wouldn't even make Margaret O'Brien blush.

A violent domestic scene staged by Red and Georgia Skelton have their pals worried about their marriage. Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas had a lulu of a spat at a party thrown by Pierre LaMur, author of "Moulin Rouge." Hurled blistering words at each other in front of all the guests. There's irony in the announcement that movie producer Philip A. Waxman is looking for a male star for "The Night Watch."

He bought the story for John Garfield.

RELIGIOUS EPIC NEARER

C. B. DeMille is a lot nearer to turning the camera on his new version of "The Ten Commandments" than most people in Hollywood realize. Paramount's wardrobe department has alerted fur designer Al Teitelbaum to stock up a supply of lion skins, tigers, camels, gazelles and leopards for the religious epic.

Dan Dailey's dancing stint at the Palladium in London has been cancelled by Fox. He will be finishing his dance numbers this summer in "The Girl Next Door" with June Haver. June's doctors have announced that her operation is a success and that she can dance herself silly from now on.

John Carroll's all set to do vaudeville concerts throughout the country. A Judy Garland, with supporting acts and a ballet. That's the reason he's nixing an MGM contract.

It's because Charles Boyer's role in Paramount's "Thunder in the East" suggests India's prime minister Nehru that Corinne Calvet's snipped scenes with the star have been snipped from the picture.

Director Henry Hathaway's ultimatum that nobody in the cast of "Niagara" can leave the roaring falls location site for trips to New York will keep Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio apart.

Joe isn't likely to be visiting Marilyn at Niagara, either. It's the blonde dazler's biggest movie break yet and her pretty nose is being kept to the acting grindstone.

IT'S A STEAL

Jennifer Jones is stealing Mae West's swiftness walk for her role of a southern sheba in "Ruby Gentry." Practiced up on it for weeks, did Jennifer... Frankie Laine's opening at the Coconut Grove proved that he's still Mr. Rhythm. The guy gets better every year.

This summer Fox will re-issue "Laura," the Gene Tierney-Dana Andrews-Clifton Webb hit directed by Otto Preminger back in 1944.

"There's only one way for Hollywood to lick television—quality and size. Big all-star casts and tremendous sets. Things TV can't do."

Producer Jerry Wald blueprinting "Operations Future" for Hollywood. It was Jerry who brought back the all-star cast for "Clash by Night." Now he'll stack up the big star names again for "Size 12," which will tell the private life stories of six different fashion models.

Only unknown in the cast will be wild-haired Ursula Thiess, the German immigrant.

This'll have Bob Hope gnashing his teeth. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello have filed an application with the British Interplanetary Society of London for a passport to be the first entertainers to make a trip to the moon in a space ship. With their press agent, of course, right behind them.

Director Harold Kress reports a pique at the Hollywood Gotham. "I understand," said one studio employee, "that the boss is gonna hire a real nitwit."

"But he can't do that," flared the other, "that's nepotism."

DR. JORDAN ANSWERS

Reader Taking Excess of Barbiturates Should Follow Prescription, Stop Using Drug at Once

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN Written for NEA Service

Some people, like the writer of today's first letter, can certainly get themselves into a fine mess.

Q—My doctor is treating me for an ailment and allows me one tablet of phenobarbital per day. I have access to 50 or 100 grains a day, which he knows nothing about, and I have been taking several. It keeps me asleep all day, and my husband is beginning to suspect something wrong. What should I do?

Reader: A—You should stop taking phenobarbital at once and tell your doctor about it. Somebody has no business letting you have access to this additional quantity of drug.

Q—I am 68 years old, but was operated on three years ago for prostate trouble. I should like to know if it is all right to eat a dozen eggs a week. I have often heard that too many eggs are bad for the heart and kidneys.

H. L. A—It seems unlikely that the eggs would be of any harm merely because you had a prostate operation several years ago. Perhaps, however, as many as a dozen eggs a week is a little high.

Q—My son had a physical examination some time ago and the doctors found sugar in his urine, but when he drinks a lot of water and eats mostly vegetables, this doesn't show up. Do you think he has diabetes?

Mrs. E. D. F. A—Quite likely he has a mild diabetes, but his blood should be tested for sugar as well as his urine.

Q—I have been suffering from a condition known as porphyria. Is there a cure or any kind of treatment for it?

J. H. A—This is a rather rare condition believed to be a constitutional or inherited fault. It is often associated with sensitivity to light and a person who is so sensitive should be protected from too bright light. Removal of the spleen is sometimes of value. A number of treatments have been tried.

Q—What causes Vincent's angina, and what can be done for it?

Mrs. H. H. A—This is an infectious and contagious disease, sometimes known as trench mouth, and is believed to be caused by two kinds of germs. It was formerly difficult to treat, but now by the combination of good local measures of hygiene for the mouth and penicillin, the condition can usually be cured successfully, rapidly and completely.

Q—My sister has something called elephantiasis. Her feet certainly do look like elephant's feet. Is there a cure for this?

Mrs. R. S. A—There are several kinds of elephantiasis, or lymphedema. Regardless of the variety, good care is important to prevent permanent enlargement. In general, treatment is aimed at preventing the accumulation of fluid in the feet, and avoidance of infection. Occasionally, an operation is indicated.

Q—A delegate, simply because he can't be everywhere at once, sees only a small part of what's going on.

While the camera may not be about to push its snout under the tent of every committee room, it should be able to get in on some of the news conferences called by the candidates or their managers.

That's a big part of the convention but something the delegates miss.

This year the convention hall in Chicago is supposed to be air-conditioned. It will be a miracle if any air-conditioning can keep it cool, when you remember the crowd and the blazing heat.

These camera lights won't blind you or overheat you at home. They will just make the picture on your screen a little clearer.

Taft Temperament Difficult For Lensmen; Ike's a 'Mugger'

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—News photographers are generally agreed that Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia is the easiest of the presidential candidates to work with. He'll do anything they say.

General Eisenhower, as a new face on the political scene, is regarded by many as the most photogenic and the best "mugger." Senator Taft of Ohio still takes top honors as being the most difficult subject, photographically and temperamentally.

Recently a photographer was admitted to Senator Taft's Washington residence to make a series of "at home" shots. The photographer suggested that the senator take off his coat, sit down in an easy chair and make like he was having a cup of coffee.

"I never take my coat off at home," said the senator crisply. "All right," replied the photographer agreeably, "I just wanted to show you relaxed at home and most men, when they go home, take off their coats."

"That settles it," said the senator. "Leave my house."

Frank Capra, a photographer covering General Eisenhower on the final visit to Luxembourg, says he was close by when the general bade farewell to Minister Perle (the inspiration for "Call Me Madam"). Mesta. It was at Luxembourg airport.

As the general stopped to shake hands with Mme. Mesta before boarding his plane, Capra says this conversation took place:

Mme. Mesta: "Well, goodbye, general."

General Eisenhower: "Call me Mister."

General Eisenhower has privately told a few people there is not one word of truth in the story printed last November that President Truman had offered to let Ike get the Democratic presidential nomination, and that the general had not rejected it.

Mr. Eisenhower's version is that the story was impossible because, right at the start of his meeting with the President there was a clear understanding that the two would not discuss domestic politics.

Iowa Sen. Guy M. Gillette's election subcommittee is making a study of scurrilous literature mailed out during the 1952 campaign though it hasn't as yet cleared up its 1950 election scandals, cases as yet.

The Gillette committee has traced the first of the anti-Eisenhower mailings, "Headlines and What's Behind Them," to the New York offices of the much-investigated Joe Kamp.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was asked if he intended to have blocks of delegates visit him before the Democratic nominating convention in Chicago, in an obvious crack at General Eisenhower's activities along that line.

"Not said Kefauver. 'Our plan of campaign is to go see the people and then get them to influence the delegates.'"

California Sen. William F. Knowland's sweep of both parties in the state primaries has made him a hot prospect for a vice-presidential nomination. He would be teamed with Senator Taft in the number one spot.

The old "Copperhead" political label of Civil War times has been dragged out again. The name was originally applied to Northerners who sympathized with and supported the South in the battle over slavery and state's rights.

Americans for Democratic Action, the liberal wing of the Democratic Party, is now applying the "Copperhead" label to Northerners who want a compromise plank on civil rights in the 1952 platform.

At the head of its Copperhead list, ADA has put Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney and Massachusetts Gov. Paul A. Dever, who'll be knighted at the Chicago Democratic Convention.

First the Eisenhower crowd accused the Taftites of "stealing" the Texas delegation by steamroller tactics. Undaunted by that, Taft headquarters has now issued a statement accusing the Ikeites of trying to win the Texas delegation "by fraud."

The alleged fraud is supposed to have occurred in trying to persuade Democrats to vote for General Eisenhower in Republican primaries.

Southern congressmen have taken care to see that cotton planters are protected on price-support levels in this election year, regardless of what happens to northern and western grain farmers.

The House of Representatives have passed a bill changing the standards on which price supports are calculated. The result is that cotton prices will probably be advanced three and a half cents a pound on the 1952 crop, if it runs over the 16-million-bale goal set by Department of Agriculture.

He works in his father's business and father and son get along fine. But the husband's mother assumed from the beginning that she had the right to run her daughter-in-law's life.

Says the daughter-in-law: "She criticizes my clothes and makes such remarks as: 'I wish you would take me along next time you go to buy a dress.'"

"She wants to know how much everything costs and seems to feel that because my husband is working for his father we shouldn't make any financial decisions without talking the matter over with them."

"Her invitations are command performances. She'll call me up to say she is giving a party and adds that, of course, she is expecting us to be there. And convenient or not, we go."

"She doesn't even hesitate to tell me what couples she thinks we ought to see more of, and which ones she can't understand what we see in."

PUT A STOP TO BEING PUSHED AROUND

"Maybe all this doesn't sound too important. But I feel like I'm being smothered."

And you are. But you can probably straighten things out with determination and tact.

You'll need the determination to stand up for your own ideas and opinions and to put a stop to being pushed around.

You'll need tact to get across the idea that you are perfectly capable of managing your own life without creating any unpleasant scenes.

Next time a "command performance" interferes with plans you have already made, say so, instead of changing your plans.

When you are asked how much something cost and resent the question, look your mother-in-law straight in the eye and say: "That's not the important thing. The important thing is that it is exactly what we want."

As for your friends, you don't need to try to defend them. Just dismiss any criticism of them with, "Bill and I like them."

Keep your temper, but let it be known that you intend to manage your own life.

WHAT'S RIGHT

You would like to have two of your friends meet each other.

WRONG: Keep talking about it, but leave it to chance.

RIGHT: Make some plans that will bring them together.

LAW CURE'S TURNS

Hallifax, N.E. (AP)—The provincial law says that when cars are parked in the wheels must be turned to the curb. One motorist caught in the toils of the law here, where many streets are on hills, asked "Which curb?" The law now has been amended to read "the nearest curb."

THE MATURE PARENT

Children Must Learn to Take Injustice in Their Stride

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

A friend of mine is personnel manager of an advertising firm. She is now very interested in the career of a talented young woman who has recently come to work in her office.

Last week the girl brought her an indignant complaint about her executive. "It's his injustice I resent," she said. "I prepared this layout exactly as he ordered but when his client didn't approve it, he accused me of 'misunderstanding' what he said."

The young woman enjoys a fine salary and opportunities for advancement. However, these facts were of minor concern to her. "I'm thinking of quitting," she told my friend. "I like this job—but I won't take injustice from anyone."

To me, later, my friend said "I took a deep breath—and gave it to her straight without frills. I said, 'Who are you to run away from injustice? Just who do you think you are to rate perfect justice from your boss or anyone else? Who chose you to enjoy the privilege denied to every other human being on earth?'"

What she said brought the talented but untrained young woman back to earth.

We must stop producing young people who believe that they are entitled to perfect justice from their world. It makes them into poor employees, poor wives and husbands and poor parents.

We produce them by over-riding their sense of justice when they are little boys and girls.

Allison, for example, returns from an errand to the store without butter. When she protests that butter was not on the grocery list, her mother brushes this truth aside. Allison expresses anger at this injustice and her anger is rejected as improper, forbidden and "bad."

Since this does not dispose of it, Allison is left to live with it the best she can. So she sets to work to glorify the ugly thing. Just as the oyster surrounds an irritating grain of sand with pearls, relieving substance, Allison begins to romanticize her forbidden anger.

She begins to think of herself as a victim of oppression, not of a mistake made by a tired mother. If her idea of justice continues to be violated by her parent, she will continue to glorify her resentment. She will look for justification for her noble indignation, choosing friends who carry similar grudges. She will have trouble with teachers.

Gradually, she will see injustice everywhere until the most reasonable denial appears as imposition. A wish for a bigger allowance will be her title to it, regardless of the fact that she has not earned it, or that her parents can't afford it. Allison has become an adolescent who believes she is entitled to special privileges.

Often when our older boys and girls persecute us with demands for more money, for "rights" in the family car, they are acting from their idealized picture of themselves as Noble Victims of Oppression. Their preoccupation with this picture so distracts them that they cannot accept the realistic suggestion that rights to most things have to be earned.

Young people whose childhood ideas of justice have been considered and instructed carefully can take injustice from the world calmly in their stride. It does not alarm them. They register it and deal with it. As they have been trained to make cases for their truth clear, thoughtful and convincing, they can make such cases to bosses, husbands and wives.

They do not carry chips on the shoulder to bring exaggerated heroic emotions to issues that are the commonplace problems of all of us.

Down She Goes! 160 Foot Stack Tumbles

Looking very much like the Leaning Tower of Pisa, this 160 foot smokestack in the rear of the Jacksonville water treatment plant was caught by the camera in mid-air Thursday afternoon as it plunged to earth. The entire spectacle was premeditated—the city paid to have the big brick chimney demolished. It was built in 1919, but hadn't been used for a number of years. The huge stack sprawled northward in its plunge to the ground. Had it chosen to fall the wrong way the pumping plant would have been flattened. The base of the chimney was within five feet of the building.

The job of seeing that the 160-footer behaved properly as it descended from its lofty position fell to two employees of the Custodis Construction Company of Chicago. William Krull, a 70 year old veteran with the company, and Ray Garland who has been toiling industrial stacks for ten years, went to work Wednesday afternoon. By one o'clock Thursday afternoon they had the chimney rocking on its heels, ready to take a farewell dive.

Interested city officials and other spectators recognized Krull and Garland as artists in their line. They cut out three feet of bricks and mortar from the foundation, about three-quarters way around. This operation was followed by shearing up the weakened area with four by-fours.

When the workmen announced that the stack would be ready for its final performance early Thursday afternoon, a crowd gathered at the pumping plant to witness the ceremony. Krull and Garland soaked the wooden props with kerosene and touched them off. At 1:55 p.m. the big stack shivered like it had suddenly contracted a cold—then began its graceful descent.

Krull and Garland, working around the base of the structure, were the calmest men in the vicinity. A second before the stack started down, Garland was whacking away at the timbers with an axe. He stepped back a few feet and watched the chimney fold up. It shattered into three sections as it fell to earth.

"Just missed the mark two inches," Garland said proudly after the cloud of brick and mortar subsided and he stood back to view his handiwork. Both men said the stack fell exactly where they wanted it.

The pumping plant was directly south—the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio railroad directly west. Any deviation from its proper course would have piled the old stack on the pumping plant or railroad property. The councilmen and others in the crowd agreed that the workmen turned in a perfect job. Alderman T. C. Chumley, mayor pro-tem, and George Coldewey, superintendent of the water and light department, were present.

Coldewey said the demolished stack will be used to make the base of a roadway between the pumping plant and the municipal electric generating plant, some distance north. This is the second old chimney the city has removed within the past few years. The tall stack that stood behind the city hall, having formerly served the old light plant, was torn down brick-by-brick, about two years ago.

$10,451 Pledged In Salvation Army Drive

The Salvation Army $100,000 new building campaign reached the $10,451 mark Thursday evening at the first report meeting held at the Y.M.C.A.

The reports by divisions are as follows: Memorial Gift Division, $4,795; Business and Professional Division, $3,716; Residential Division, $1,860.71; and County Division, $80.

J. R. "Dick" Stratman, campaign general chairman, stated at the finish of reporting "We have now passed our first hurdle and are quite elated over the showing of the divisions at their first report. Although we would like to have had more money reported at the meeting, we are not discouraged in any way or in any sense, since only 14 of the 178 prospects in the Memorial Gift Division were reported on at the meeting.

"There is plenty of room for improvement however, and what we have to do now is to really dig in order that we can make our final report on Tuesday, July 1, and I would like to urge all workers to do their utmost in the short time that we have left."

The next report meeting will be held Tuesday, June 24, at 7 p.m. at the Y.M.C.A. Other report meetings are scheduled for Friday, June 27, and Tuesday, July 1.

In the language of flowers

Of course flowers themselves don't really talk, but a flower or combination of them does carry certain meanings. Just as daisies imply innocence, and pansies signify thought, so the waterlily indicates purity of heart.

Pure, lovely, and fragrant, the waterlily floats gently on the water's surface. Yet its roots plunge deep into rich soil beneath it, and it thrives only if it is fed well and constantly.

In return it gives to us not only its exotic fragrance and beauty, but food—for nestled among its stamens is a veritable treasure of small sacks of nectar sought eagerly by the bees.

Your own spiritual life is like this waterlily. Its roots must sink deep and be nourished frequently by worship in church. (That's why each seventh day was set aside for rest and worship.)

Then, like this delicate blossom, your life will be a thing of value and beauty to be shared with others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Death in the Sierras
By Doris Hanson Moss

XI

AS I reached my tent, with Sue close on my heels, Dr. David Roberts came along the trail toward me.

"What have you been up to?" I started to tell him but he stopped me. "We have searched everywhere for you. Now, my dear, please stay near me hereafter because I know a lot more about all this than you may think. Don't Rosemary, don't take another chance."

"I have something to tell you," I answered as I tried to hide my confusion. "It's about Mrs. Ordell. I've found her alive in a cave under the stream. I saw the murderer and I do believe that these scissors were used to stab her."

As fast as my tongue could fly I told him the story of my adventure, of the evil man who had sunk from sight in the water, of the grave-like cave and of the living body of Mrs. Ordell whom Dr. Roberts himself had pronounced dead. While I talked, David took my topcoat from a peg and slipped it around my shoulders. He caught my hands and held them in his two warm brown ones. It was then that I was honestly sorry that I had tracked the murderer without telling him or Duncan.

"Never mind about Duncan, but I should have thought that you'd have told me, for protection—if nothing more."

I felt my color rise again but continued my story as well as I could. I told him that Mrs. Ordell asked me to tell Bob instead of her husband.

"Yes, that's understandable," the Doctor replied. "She would protect the Professor with all her strength, even to the last. She would keep him from that cave if it were humanly possible."

Finally, I told him about the map and with my finger drew an invisible copy of it on my suitcase.

He stood staring at me and then without comment as to my story he said, "Now that Susie found those scissors, we have the all-damning evidence of fingerprints. More than that, dear girl, you may have solved the whole case, you and good old Susie. And before I leave I've just got to tell you something though the moment is far from auspicious. To me, time is something that is purely personal. A day may be as long as a year and some years seem no more important than some days. It seems impossible to believe that you and I met for the first time only night before last. These past 36 hours have seemed to me to be the length of months. I've never met a woman like you, Rosemary. You are brave, capable, self-confident, though you keep all this carefully hidden beneath your prettiness. I'm in love with you, my dear, and even though you may not care for me, I'll always love you just as instinctively as I love these beautiful mountains."

WE told Duncan of my adventure. He listened, apparently amazed and made constant jottings in his little book while we talked. Together, the men agreed to tell no one of the new developments.

"But surely you'll tell Sheriff Torrington," I prompted the Sergeant.

"That old tobacco-juicer? Forget it."

"True," affirmed the Doctor. "In this instance there is danger in numbers. If we play our cards properly and wait as though we know nothing, I will gamble that the guilty person falls into the trap of our silence. Just one slip is all we need to show us the killer. Killer he is because even though Mrs. Ordell is still alive, Elsie Martington is not. And the same person is guilty of both crimes, that seems certain."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brasell and family and Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Cooper attended the Central League picnic of the Rural Letter Carriers association at Edgewood Park, Macomb, Sunday.

Mrs. Nell Waddell of Virginia is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Warren Mincey, and family.

Duncan took a fresh hand towel from the peg on the end tent pole and carefully wrapped the scissors in it.

Then he produced a small flask of brandy and poured a bit into the little hipcup. "You're a swell Doc, you are," he laughed at Dr. Roberts. "Why don't you do something to stop this kid from chilling himself to death?"

David turned an embarrassed red while the Sergeant grinned at him in delight.

"Here, drink this, girlie, and you'll begin to feel warmer. Now get into your riding duds and we'll take a ride, that is, if you're able to stick on a horse."

"Oh, I am," I answered. "And don't you dare to leave me."

"No, we won't," The Sergeant laughed.

I thought hard and fast as I got into my riding breeches and boots and when I emerged from the tent to face the two men who were seated again on the big log, I said, "Sergeant Duncan, I've told you all that I know about this affair. Now I think that you might repay me with a few facts that you possess. Please tell me which person do you think is behind all this? I want to know whom I should be on guard against."

He looked at me sharply and chuckled. "I don't know." And he laughed aloud so hard that he frightened a chipmunk who scuttled up the tall pine nearby in terror.

But his hilarity didn't fool me. He knew something and I meant to find out what.

AS the three of us walked back to the lodge I asked, "When were we last on this trail we heard a shot. Was anyone hurt?"

They told me that Officer Marguard fired the shot. He saw a man in blue jeans running along the hill behind the kitchen. He called to him to halt but the man ran faster than ever so he fired and then gave chase. But whoever the stranger was, he disappeared.

I knew who the man in jeans was. He was the man I had seen disappear into the lake—no doubt the murderer himself!

SABOTAGE BOOMERANGS

SINGAPORE (AP)—Delayed-action sabotage by Australian prisoners-of-war is playing havoc with Singapore's busy Kallang airport.

When the Japanese set their Aussie prisoners to work extending the existing airstrip during the occupation, the boys deliberately undermined the runway foundation through weak "packing."

Now, as activity at Kallang has reached 40 aircraft movements a day, the runway is beginning to cave in. Frantic officials and engineers have closed the airport from nightfall to sunrise in order to effect repairs.

County School Film Board Elects Wade

J. Merle Wade, superintendent of the South Jacksonville grade school, was elected chairman of the Morgan county film library board of control at a meeting recently. The session was held in the office of John C. Deem, superintendent of the Morgan county school system.

Stephen Martin, superintendent of the North Jacksonville grade school, was chosen vice-chairman. Automatically secretary-treasurer is Supt. Deem. Retiring from the board is Darrell R. Blodgett, superintendent of the Jacksonville school system.

Dr. Blodgett has resigned the superintendency effective July 1.

The board of control voted to add 38 new films to the library, which is becoming an increasingly popular instructional device both locally and nationally. The library already has 171 films. Among these are 31 for primary grades, 54 for intermediate pupils, 41 for junior high school, and 45 for senior high students. It was emphasized, however, that some films may be used for more than one age group.

The board also has accepted a film from Supt. Wade which had been given to the South Jacksonville school by the Cornbelt Chevrolet company. Its title is "Safety Patrol."

After his election as chairman, Supt. Wade said the board would continue to expand the facilities of the library as rapidly as circumstances permit. He added that "visual-instruction is one of the most effective forms of instruction. We are sold on it."

Births

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartz of 825 Allen avenue became the parents of a daughter at 8:20 a. m. Friday at the Passavant hospital.

I.S.D. Reunion Opens; Banquet To Be Tonight

The opening business session of the Illinois School for the Deaf alumni association was held in the school auditorium Friday morning with John Tubergen, 35, president of the association presiding.

The invocation was given by Rev. N. P. Uhlig of this city.

In his address of welcome, Dr. Daniel T. Cloud, superintendent of the school said in part, "you have come to live again the life you once lived here, the only difference being that you are no longer children."

The response was made by Mrs. Frieda B. Meagher, 97, of Chicago who commented on the splendid hospitality the alumni have always received at the school.

William A. Johnson, 23 of this city, gave an account of the proceedings of the first meeting of the alumni association which was held September 6 to 10, 1877. Following the talk a minute of silent tribute was given to those attending the first meeting who had the "interest and foresight in founding the alumni association 75 years ago."

At the afternoon session the president's report was given by John M. Tubergen.

Friday evening S. Robey Burns, 14 of Chicago gave a lecture on his trip to Copenhagen, Denmark for the International Games of the Deaf. Movies of the trip and the games were shown. The next international games of the deaf are to be held at Brussels, Belgium in 1955.

After the lecture a dance was held in the gymnasium with music being furnished by Wallace Baptist.

At Saturday's business session addresses will be given by Dr. Cloud and Thomas K. Kline who assumes his duties as superintendent of the Illinois School for the Deaf July 1. On the same date Dr. Cloud will begin his duties as head of the New York School for the Deaf at White Plains, N. Y.

A banquet will be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening with the entertainment being held in the auditorium.

The program for Sunday, the final day of the reunion, includes a picnic on the front lawn and a soft ball game between teams from Northern and Southern Illinois.

Miss Annie M. Roper of Alton is the oldest alumnus at the reunion. She graduated with the class of 1884 and has not missed a meeting of the I. S. D. alumni association since 1937.

Post-Dispatch Writer Retires After 64 Years

Frank A. Behmyer, a veteran of 64 years in journalism and a few years ago the recipient of an honorary degree from MacMurray College, retired Thursday from the staff of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He is 82 years old.

Behmyer's featured human interest stories in the St. Louis newspaper have been familiar to Illinois and Missouri readers for more than a generation. He is also active in educational circles as a member of the board of trustees of McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill., where he makes his home.

He began his journalism career in 1888 as a copy holder on the Post-Dispatch and two years later began to take up writing. One of the early editors who gave Behmyer encouragement was Charles Chapin, who later went to the New York World and became one of the most famous—and feared—city editors in the history of American journalism.

Lower, slower depreciation

Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more at resale than any other make which costs about the same new. The market value of Chevrolet trucks stays up because the value stays in.

You buy a truck to get work done fast and efficiently, at the lowest possible cost.

There's a Chevrolet truck that will do just that. It lists for less money than any other truck with comparable specifications. It saves on operation and upkeep. It's factory-matched to your job—frame, tires, axles, springs, engine, transmission, brakes. And traditionally, it keeps its value longer.

Robin Roberts Pitches Phils To 3-1 Win

Philadelphia, June 20.—(P)—Robin Roberts held the Cincinnati Reds in almost complete check tonight as the Philadelphia Phillies set the Reds down 3 to 1. Roberts, who fanned five—including three in the fifth inning—allowed only three hits, weakened but once when he tossed a home run ball to Hank Edwards with none on in the seventh.

Roberts, the Phillies ace right-hander, chalked up his eighth victory of the season against five losses.

Del Ennis provided the needed win margin for Philadelphia with a fourth inning homer into the upper deck of the left field stands after Johnny Wyrostek had walked to open the frame.

Red Sox Refuse To Discuss Huge Bonus Payments

Boston, June 20.—(P)—Reports from widely scattered sections that the Boston Red Sox have given a total of $475,000 to six untied youngsters in recent weeks last night drew a "no comment" from General Manager Joe Cronin.

"The Red Sox never discuss such matters," Cronin added.

It had been announced in Pomona, Calif., that Red Sox scouts had signed Marty Keough, an 18-year-old schoolboy, for a $100,000 bonus.

Word came from St. Louis that the Red Sox had given Frank Baumann, an 18-year-old southpaw pitcher, a reported $125,000 for signing.

Two Oregon youngsters, Edward Urness, a pitcher from The Dalles, and Jerry Zimmerman, a catcher from Milwaukee in the Portland district, had been signed to bonus contracts for $88,000 and $65,000, respectively.

Bonus offers of $50,000 were reported to have lured two college catchers, Larry Isbell of Baylor and Haywood Sullivan of the University of Florida, into the Red Sox farm system.

New Yorkers Rule Sugar Ray Can't Hold Two Titles

New York, June 20.—(P)—The New York state athletic commission today ruled provisionally that Sugar Ray Robinson win the light heavyweight title from Joey Maxim Monday night he automatically would forfeit his middleweight crown.

The provisional aspect of the decision means that there is an outside chance that it might be changed when the New York commission meets with commissioners from Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey here Sunday and Monday.

In making its ruling today the New York commission abided by a change in the state code adopted Feb. 1, 1952. Prior to that time a fighter automatically relinquished his crown when he signed to fight for a title in a higher division.

Chairman Robert Christenberry and Dr. C. P. Powell were present at today's meeting, with the third commission member, Leon Swears, absent.

Powell discussing the possibility of an exception being made to the rule, said he saw little chance of such an action.

"I believe we will stick by the rule," he said.

The meeting with the commissioners from other states this coming weekend is not primarily to discuss the present title situation, but Christenberry added that the matter "most certainly will come up."

Should Robinson defeat Maxim and become the world light heavyweight champion, Christenberry said he favored a tournament to pick the new middleweight king.

He said such a tournament should include Bobo Olson of Honolulu, Randy Turpin of England, Rocky Graziano of New York, Paddy Young of New York, Norman Hayes of Boston, Dave Sands of Australia, Robert Villmain and Laurent Dautuille of France, Gene Halstron of New York, Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., and Charles Humez of France.

Betty Jameson Betsy Rawls, In Golf Finals

Chicago, June 20.—(P)—Hot-putting Betsy Rawls, golf's Queen Midas, nipped three-time champion Louise Suggs, 2 and 1, and relentless Betty Jameson trimmed the lone surviving amateur, 19-year-old Barbara Romack, 4 and 3, in today's rain-drenched semi-finals of the Women's Western Open.

Miss Rawls, the meet medalist from Austin, Tex., and Miss Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., face one another Saturday in a 36-hole, all-around Star state championship battle at Skokie Country club.

Miss Jameson, who won the 1942 Western Open, uncorked a fine short game to turn back Miss Romack, the game youngster from Sacramento, Calif., who won only one hole, the ninth.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Sonny Gross, popular young stock car driver from Quincy, is just a boy working his way through college. The 22-year-old is a senior at Macomb State Teachers college. He's attending the summer session to finish up and is reportedly an honor student.

How much does this college boy make? Well he does much better than the ordinary youth who peddles magazines from door to door in order to achieve a higher education. We can't say how much the youngster makes because we wouldn't want to be wrong. But we do know this much. A Jacksonville car owner recently confided in this corner that he grossed $1,100 in the month of May with his auto. And this car was running second to Sonny most of the time. Therefore, Gross must really be putting the first syllable in "grossed."

Sonny races four nights each week. He must average near $150 per night. And he's going to college to prepare for teaching. Of course he could teach during the winter, then take to the race tracks come summer vacation. Wow! There's a good catch for you gals.

Glenn Williams, one of the proudest fathers in Jacksonville these days, has received a couple of newspapers from Independence, Kansas, that prove that his boy Bill is doing all right with that town in the K-O-M baseball league. Bill made his first appearance in a relief pitching role with the club the other night and blanked Miami with no hits and no runs. But his team lost 16-3.

Bill appeared as a relief pitcher two days later and distinguished himself as a hitter. The big right hander banged a triple down the right field line to tally his club's only run. He pitched six innings in one and allowed just three hits, struck out five and walked five. However, errors hurt and Independence lost the game 14-1. However, Bill was charged with neither of these losses. His record is still an even 0-0.

Indians Check Losing Streak With 9-2 Win

Cleveland, June 20.—(P)—With 14 hits, including homers by Bob Lemon, Jim Fridgey and Larry Doby, the Cleveland Indians checked their six-game losing streak tonight by beating the Boston Red Sox 9-2. Lemon held the Red Sox to five hits and blanked them on one single for the first six frames.

The loss was charged to Mel Parnell, who developed a sore shoulder after pitching to two batters in the first inning and was removed. The slim southpaw boarded a train two hours later for Boston where he will be treated tomorrow.

Upsets Mark Opening Rounds Of PGA Meet

Louisville, Ky., June 20.—(P)—Defending champion Sam Snead and medalist E. J. (Dutch) Harrison were blown to the sidelines today in a cyclone of upsets that swept the opening rounds of the PGA golf championship.

Three former PGA champions—Chandler Harper, Jim Ferrier and Denny Shute—were cut down during the day of double eliminations, along with Lloyd Mangrum, 1946 National Open king; graying Lawson Little, one of the giants of the 30s, and Jack Burke, Jr., season's leading money winner.

Out of the debris emerged tall Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis as the No. 1 favorite in Saturday's field of 16, generously scattered with little known home pros.

Snead bowed to Lew Worsham, lantern-jawed Oakmont, Pa., pro, on the 19th hole of an electrically-charged grudge match billed as a renewal of their playoff for the National Open crown in 1947.

The now deposed champion from West Virginia recently related how he had been "needed" out of the championship by Worsham. Lew, who hosts next year's open at Oakmont, went out today to get even and he did—with a birdie four on the first extra hole as Snead was stricken with putting shakes.

Then, in complete harmony with the upset theme, Worsham went out in the afternoon to lose to rangy Fred Haas of New Orleans, one up in the second round.

Harrison, 42-year-old Arkansas traveler, succumbed to swaggering Marty Furgol of Atlanta, two up, thus upholding the ancient tradition that a medalist never wins the championship.

A little, 32-year-old pro named Ted Kroll, built along Hogan's lines, produced two of the major victories over Big Spring's sun-baked, par 72 course.

A former infantry sergeant who fought on the beaches at Anzio, Italy, first eliminated Little, one up, and then staged a great come-from-behind battle to trip the heavily-favored Mangrum, 2 up. Against Mangrum, Kroll won the last four holes, two on birdies.

Harpen, slender swinger from Portsmouth, Va., who won the PGA title two years ago, bowed to the veteran Jim Turney of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., 3 and 1.

Jim Ferrier lost in the second round, one up, to Ray Hornsberger, a jowly 42-year-old little known pro from Clarkston, Wash., playing in his first PGA.

Denny Shute, PGA titlist in 1936-37, lost to long-hitting Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., in the first round, 5 and 4. Jackie Burke, after beating Jimmy Walkup of Midlothian, Ill., in the first round, lost to Argentina's Roberto De Vicenzo, one up, in the afternoon.

Middlecoff, who automatically becomes the title favorite, won his first two matches in impressive style. He trounced Joe Taylor of Bristol, Tenn., 5 and 4, and then disposed of the fiftyish Charles Harter of Logansport, Ind., 3 and 2.

ALL GRAINS LOWER ON BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains headed lower on the Board of Trade today except rye, which enjoyed a little boomlet sending prices very close to their seasonal highs.

Corn was weakest on the slump. Heavy arrivals of cash grain, much of it owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation, sank near-by deliveries. Beneficial rains in the corn belt, along with the prospects of smaller pig production this year, created selling in distant months.

Wheat encountered mild hedging pressure and a disinclination on the part of investors to buy following yesterday's upward spurge. Oats

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Lagging railroads and considerable spotty weakness throughout the rest of the list today held the stock market in a highly mixed pattern.

With a few exceptions, prices moved lightly over a range of a point either way.

Volume came to an estimated 1,200,000 shares, very close to the average daily volume so far this year.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, June 20—(AP)—A gain today of 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds in live hog prices was enough to place the market at levels steady with a week ago. Earlier in the week moderate declines had pushed values back to where they were before the big mid-May bulge.

Butcher weights barrows and gilts mostly sold at $19.00 to $21.25 and sows from $16.25 to $18.50.

Cattle were lightly supplied and steady to weak. Old head of choice brought $32.00 to $34.00 while the best price on heifers was $30.50 for one load testing choice. Cows topped at $24.00, bulls at $26.00, and yearlings at $32.00.

Too few sheep came to the stockyards to make much of a price test. Only odd head of good to choice native spring lambs turned up, taking $27.50 and below. Ewes could do no better than $7.00.

Receipts included an estimated 5,000 hogs, 1,000 cattle, 300 calves, and 100 sheep.

Burglars Steal Check Book From Grain Elevator

A check book belonging to Allen B. Chrisman was the only article stolen when the office of the Chrisman Grain Co. at Meredosia was burglarized early Friday morning.

The Morgan county sheriff's office, warning businessmen in this section of the state against cashing checks in the book, announced that Mr. Chrisman had stopped payment on checks numbered above 789.

Burglars pried open a window at the grain office to gain entrance. The safe was unlocked, the company having a sign upon it which states that it is open.

The burglary is similar to one at Barry, Ill., a few nights ago, when blank checks belonging to a motor company were stolen.

Deputy Sheriff L. L. Eden went to Meredosia to begin an investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Scott, 918 N. Prairie avenue, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Merle Delaney and two sons at a potluck supper Thursday night. Forty-one persons attended the event, held at the Scott residence. Following the meal games were played by the guests.

It's New!
DIXIE 16% MILKING FEED!
makes more money from your pasture and roughage
Iowa State College says: "High producing cows need grain... it is impossible for them to eat enough grass to meet their needs."
The University of Illinois says: "Since pasture provides only roughage, high producing cows on pasture need liberal amounts of a grain mixture if they are to get enough nutrients just as they need grain when they are barn fed."
Cornell University says: "Even on the best pasture, cows need grain to maintain high milk production."
FOR GREATER PROFITS FEED
DIXIE 16% MILKING FEED!
A high energy, palatable feed, with the correct blend of proteins, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins needed for maximum milk production from your pasture and roughage. It keeps cows in better body condition. It's convenient and easy to feed.
Available in economical 50-lb. paper bags.
Come in... see and feel the difference in New Dixie 16% Milking Feed and other dairy feeds.

MECCA PILGRIMAGE PLANNED

Singapore.—(P)—A total of 5,700 pilgrims from Singapore, Malaya, North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei are expected to sail for Mecca this year.

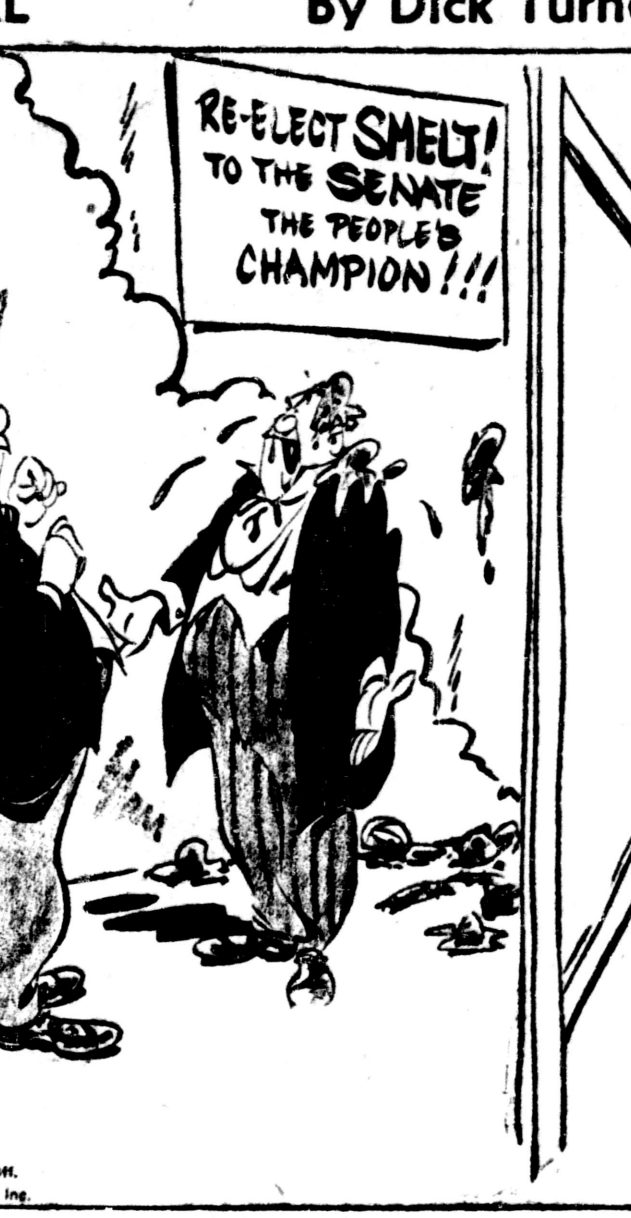

A spokesman for the Moslem advisory board said strict measures would be carried out prior to sailing to avoid, as far as possible, deaths or births among pilgrims. Mecca pilgrimages from this area in the past have been marked by disease and deaths.

CHURCH PROVES DANGEROUS
GOA, Portuguese India.—(P)—A swarm of bees chased film star and technicians who were shooting part of the life of St. Francis Xavier in a Goa church recently. Two persons were badly stung. Only a few days before a priest had been bitten by a cobra as he entered the same church.

BOOK SALES LAG
Milan.—(P)—Italians buy less than one book per capita each year. Italian book publishers announced some 37 million books were sold last year to more than 47 million Italians. Those in the Lombardy region are the most avid readers, they said.
